PLACES TO GO AND THINGS TO SEE, NEAR AND FAR

Roaring Into Las Vegas

Meow Wolf has thrilled visitors to its Santa Fe, New Mexico, location since 2016 with a signature blend of psychedelic art, immersive experiences, and mysterious intersecting narratives. Now, the company has expanded its footprint with a permanent art installation in Las Vegas. Just a few miles off the Las Vegas Strip in Area 15—a vast new complex promising art, entertainment, and shopping—Meow Wolf debuted Omega Mart, a playful all-ages take on a grocery store with “one-of-a-kind products you won’t find anywhere else in the galaxy,” as well as a double helix slide, laser harps, labyrinthine spaces, and portals to other worlds. The installation opened in February with COVID-19 precautions that include temperature checks, mask requirements, and limited capacity. Adults, $45. ➤ ELISA PARHAD
